THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislative Assembly adjourned at noon on Saturday, after passing to third reading bills relating to the protection of game and the carrying of firearms. There is great need for the enactment of a law to prevent the destruction of wild birds. In a few years several varieties of birds will be exterminated unless a close season is enforced. The bill which will pass the Legislature meets with the approval of sportsmen, who should take pains to have its provisions carried out. Insectivorous birds especially have strong claims to protection for the good they do. Indeed, we think that it would be advisable to introduce a greater variety of this class of birds than are now in the country. They might destroy fruit to some extent, but this would be far more than counterbalanced by their destruction of insects, which, if unchecked, would soon become a pest to agriculture generally.

The suggestion made by His Excellency Mr. Gibson in reference to the protection of food fish was an admirable one. There can be no doubt whatever that Chinese fishermen use nets, the meshes of which are too fine. By so doing they catch and destroy myriads of young fish before they reach a stage of growth which renders them fit for food, and thus make the supply scarce. As a matter of fact, our waters have been overfished, and it would be sound policy to enforce a tabu on fishing at certain places for several years, as well as to regulate the nets to be used. Fish enters so largely into the food of the Hawaiian people that their protection from wanton destruction becomes a question of public policy and should not be neglected. Mr. Gibson stated that he would introduce a short bill on the subject.

The report of the Bureau of Immigration was presented by His Excellency Mr. Gibson, who paid a deserved compliment to that document, which had been prepared by his predecessor, Mr. Gulick. The English version of the report had been ready long ago, but the delay in printing the Hawaiian version prevented an earlier presentation to the House. This report is a valuable historical compilation, and furnishes reliable and complete information regarding immigration to this Kingdom.

The Committee on Commerce reported adversely to the petition of the growers and exporters of bananas. It asked the Legislature to regulate steamer freights by discriminating in their favor. This is not the function of the Legislature. It should interfere as little as possible with trade and commerce, which always thrive best when left unfettered. Once introduced the element of legal discrimination in the carrying trade and unpleasant complications would soon arise. As the committee suggested in its report, the question of freight could be amicably arranged between the parties interested.

MR. DOLE AND THE MILITARY.

Mr. Dole is certainly entitled to the benefit of the doubt suggested by his personal explanation in the Legislature on Saturday last. He did not charge the military with cowardice in express terms, but he went so very close to the point that it was excusable in any one to push his argument to its legitimate conclusion. His remarks were not by any means confined to a criticism of the organization and discipline of the military, as he attempted to show on Saturday, for he went the length of declaring his belief that the soldiers were not to be relied upon in an emergency. He said, as reported, that "he could not think what soldiers were wanted for here beyond show. If any disturbance arose, civilians could be put down as ready to assist, and they would be more reliable than these guards." Now, this may not be a specific charge of cowardice, but it would suggest it to any ordinary mind. Mr. Dole says that he did not and does not question the personal courage of Hawaiian soldiers; he only said that they are not to be depended upon in any case of emergency, and that they are kept for show and not for use. As we have already remarked, however, Mr. Dole is entitled to the benefit of the doubt upon this point, and we are therefore prepared to apologize for misrepresenting him to that extent. At the same time, it should not be forgotten that at the very outset of his remarks on Friday he said that he was willing to take the risk of being called disloyal for satirizing the soldiers. And in that spirit he proceeded to belittle and cast ridicule upon the King's Guards as an unreliable military organization. We submit, therefore, that he has only himself to blame for the wrong impression his words conveyed, and we sincerely hope that this will be a lesson to him to be more guarded in future. Mr. Dole has an unfortunate tendency to indulge in reckless statements, and to make sweeping and unjust charges. This is unfortunate for himself, because it mars what otherwise might be a useful public career. If he would be advised by the ADVERTISER he would find himself a greater political force than he is now, or is ever likely to become by persistence in his present line of conduct. Referring to the discussion on the military vote as a whole, the Opposition did not manifest either a spirit of loyalty or of fairness, and we submit that these are motives which should govern the actions of legislators.

The Sunday Law Bill.

Following is a copy of the bill reported to the Legislature by the Committee on Education:

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE OBSERVANCE OF SUNDAY.

Be it enacted by the King and the Legislative Assembly of the Hawaiian Islands in the Legislature of the Kingdom assembled:

Section 1. All labor on Sunday is forbidden, excepting works of necessity or mercy, in which are included all labor that is needful for the good order, health, comfort or safety of the community, as for the protection of property from unforeseen disaster or danger of destruction or injury, or which may be required for the prosecution of or attendance upon religious worship, or for the furnishing of opportunities of reading and study. Provided, however, that on Sunday, until 9 o'clock in the morning, barber shops may be kept open; and fresh meat and fresh fish may be sold and delivered; that until 9 o'clock in the morning and after 3 o'clock in the afternoon milk may be delivered; and cattle, sheep and swine may be slaughtered; that during the entire day meals may be sold to be eaten on the premises where sold or served elsewhere by caterers; drugs, medicines and surgical appliances may be sold; personal baggage may be conveyed to and from vessels leaving and arriving at port on that day; and public carriages and licensed shore-boats may convey passengers for hire; and that all labor which may be lawfully performed on Sunday shall be conducted, as far as possible, so as not to interfere with the right of the community and each individual to quiet and repose.

Section 2. All public amusements, sports, shows and games on Sunday are hereby forbidden; and no one shall so prosecute or take part in any recreation, amusement, sport or game, not of a public character, on Sunday, in such a manner as to interfere with the right of the community and of each individual to quiet and repose.

Section 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of the first or second sections of this Act shall, on conviction, be fined not over fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not over thirty days.

Section 4. No person shall serve or execute any civil process on Sunday, and any such service or execution shall be void.

Section 5. Sunday, within the meaning of the provisions of this Act, is the first day of the week, and includes the time between the midnight preceding and the midnight following the same day.

Section 6. Sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, of chapter 25, of the Penal Code, are hereby repealed.

Island Notes.

Hilo, Hawaii, August 19th.
The Hawaiian Sunday-school Convention has been a great success. The coming of Her Royal Highness Princess Liliuokalani, having with her the Royal Hawaiian Military Band, has been a grand treat to the visitors as well as the people of Hilo. Everything has been done by the people to cause the visitors enjoyment. The Band has played every evening (except Sunday) since they arrived here. They have given three concerts at Haili Church, at two of which there was an admission fee charged for the benefit of the Convention. On Saturday there was a fine luau for the visitors. On Sunday, the 15th instant, there was a Union temperance meeting in which the Sunday schools took part and gave some fine choruses. There were seventeen schools represented at the Convention.

Her Royal Highness the Princess Liliuokalani has been tendered two receptions—one at the residence of C. N. Arnold, Esq., on the afternoon of the 17th inst., and the other the same evening at the residence of L. Severance, Esq. The band was present on both occasions. Bishop Willis preached at the house of C. N. Arnold on the 15th instant and administered baptism to several children. In the evening he preached at the Foreign Church.

The last concert of the band, which was given at Haili Church, was very much crowded, people standing up in the aisles. Special mention should be made of the entire programme of English selections; but particular mention must be made of the appearance of Emily Porter (soprano), who has not appeared for several years, and the debut of Miss Annie Rose as a soloist on her favorite instrument, the zither. Puna furnished a fine chorus.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Scott gave a delightful reception to their friends (their first since marriage) at their new mansion at Wainaku on the 13th instant. Her Royal Highness Princess Liliuokalani was present and brought with her the Royal Hawaiian Band. The number present was probably larger than any reception given in many years in the district of Hilo. The rain did not seem to deter any one, showing that where there is a will there is a way. Everything passed off to the great pleasure of all. Hilo people cannot be excelled in getting up treats which are sure to please. As for wedding receptions they are au fait. J. A. M.

Lihue, Kauai, August 21st.

The drought still continues on the Kona side.

A steam plow has been landed for the Lihue plantation.

With but one or two exceptions the mills have been shut down for the season.

The crop at Hanamaulu this year will reach 3,000 tons.

The Koloa plantation is still having trouble with its Japs.

Mr. C. M. White of Kapaa is spending his vacation at Kipikahi.

Dr. Whitney and family, of Honolulu, are now rusticating at Kipikahi.

Miss L. B. Fredenberg is spending her vacation on Oahu.

Mr. Bishop, sugar boiler at Lihue, sailed last week for the Coast, where he will remain for a few months.

Judge McCully and lady returned to Honolulu by the Iwalei on Saturday.

A reception and luau is to be given to Her Excellency Lanihon, Governor of Kauai, at Niimahu, on Saturday and Sunday next. A large crowd and an enjoyable time is anticipated by all.

Grove Farm will begin planting next week, while the Lihue plantation will not be ready for another month or more.

A few more of those $1 85 shoes left at Fishel's. Call early and save money.

Fatal Accident.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a fatal accident occurred in Kaai's house mauka the Queen's Hospital, which resulted in the death of a native child named Kalau, aged two years and seven months, the son of Samuel (k) and Kaawa (w). The story told by Kaai to the Marshal, Mr. Kaulukou, who arrived at the house shortly after the occurrence, is substantially as follows:

The child's parent's live near Kaai's place just mauka the Queen's Hospital. Yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock the child came into Kaai's house. Kaai had left a loaded pistol and cartridges on a table in the room. The child took the pistol from the table to play with and accidentally shot himself.

The pistol bullet entered the face at the left side of the nose and came out of the head near the right ear. Death resulted almost immediately.

The story of the child's death does not seem to be altogether satisfactory to the officers and the matter will be fully investigated.

Last Game of Base Ball.

The game of baseball played last Saturday afternoon at the Makiki diamond between the Honolulu and Benedict's will be the last played this season by the league clubs. The game was not an exciting one and resulted at the close of the fifth inning in a score of 18 to 4 in favor of the Honolulu. The following summary of the season shows the number of games won and lost by each of the
